As a labour supplier to various industries in our economy, we continuously deal with issues related to labour law and industrial relations. These matters soon became very cumbersome and time consuming in the ever-changing political landscape of South Africa. That is until we started dealing with Labournet. In the 12 years that we have made use of their services, this aspect of our business has been transformed into a hassle free division of our daily operations. Their staff are highly trained professionals who are always willing to be of assistance. Their services are very cost effective, efficient and easy to implement into any kind of business. The training provided by them is of a high quality, taught by competent trainers, in well compiled, easy-to-follow lectures. Because of their integrity and knowledge we have had extraordinary successes at the CCMA, MEIBC and Labour Court whenever labour matters have been referred. Labournet grants us the protection that we as employers are entitled to, by informing us of our rights, and directing our actions within the confines of the law.
Thank you Labournet, for more than a decade's outstanding service!
